WE NOMINATE

James Douglas Brown, a dedicated Princetonian for some four decades and Dean of the Princeton University Faculty since 1946, who is once again figuring conspicuously in news bearing upon the well-being of these United States. The 60-year old Brown, in the 1930's one of the architects of this country's social security legislation, has been a key member of the Federal Advisory Council on Social Security which over the weekend reported on its year-long study of social security financing.

It was the "major finding" of the council, with Brown serving as chairman of the report-drafting committee, that the "method of financing the old-age, survivors and disability insurance program is sound, and, based on the best estimates available, the contribution schedule now in the law makes adequate provision for meeting the short-range and long-range costs." In brief, Brown and his associates had been charged with appraising the "largest financial trusteeship in history," a trust fund on which 75,000,000 American wage-earners and their families are now banking for future protection.

For 25 years Brown, a member of the Princeton Class of 1919 and a University faculty member since 1921, has been influencing governmental policy, notably in the fields of social security, manpower planning and unemployment relief. There have now been three specially appointed Federal Advisory Councils on social security laws—in 1937-38, 1947-48 and 1957-58. Brown headed the first council and was a driving-force with the other two. As early as 1930-31 he was a member of President Hoover's Emergency Committee for Unemployment Relief and during World War II was a consultant on manpower to the Secretary of War and also active on a half-dozen high-level commissions.

Of the four major categories—public service, scholarly activities, other university activities and industrial relations—into which Brown's career can be subdivided the most meaningful is probably the directorship of the University's Industrial Relations Section. From 1926 until 1955, when the ever-mounting pressures of his duties as Dean of the Faculty forced him to limit his responsibilities, Brown helped define for both management and labor the fundamental concept of industrial relations and developed a front-rank research agency that is currently associated with some 650 companies and more than 130 national labor unions.

Brown, the University's second-ranking officer and one of higher education's most forceful spokesmen, frequently discusses "individual incentive," "mutual responsibility and "the preservation of the dignity of the individual under a system of democratic capitalism." It is his strong conviction that "it is not adequate protection under contributory social insurance, but the 'Santa Claus state' that we need to fear in terms of incentives and injury to the moral fibre of the American people."

For helping build bridges "between the practical affairs of industry and government and academic investigation and instruction," for his concern for strengthening and conserving the nation's human resources; for cramming all that he does into a seven-day week; he is Town Topics' nominee for

This Is PRINCETON

A FLYING START

A Dizzy one, Too. If the remainder of 1959 follows the pattern set by events in the first week of the New Year, Princeton can look forward to an unusual, unpredictable 12 months. In support of this observation, consider these developments:

● Two total strangers celebrated the arrival of the New Year by playing a very old "con" game and swindling a Princeton woman out of $2,000 in hard-earned savings.

● Lahiere's Restaurant, 7 Witherspoon Street, considered a model of good employee-employer relations, was struck by a majority of its employees, including several longtime waitresses and both chefs.

● A group of 14 residents of the Greater Princeton area organized The New Jersey Broadcasting Company, the second local group and fourth in the State seeking a commercial radio license for the same frequency—1350 kilocycles.

● Elmer Rodweller, 8 Chestnut Street, the man who is often behind the wheel of the First Aid Unit's ambulance, was whisked to Princeton Hospital in a police patrol car after falling down his cellar stairs and knocking himself out.

Perhaps '59's flying start was indicated by certain happenings at the very end of '58. For example, on December 30, a young, unmasked gunman walked into the Household Finance Company office in broad daylight and calmly held up the office manager, William J. Read, and his secretary, Miss Joyce Anderson. According to Township Investigators, the bold thief—believed to be between 23 and 26 years of age—left the Princeton Shopping Center area $329 richer.

Recounting the late-afternoon incident, Miss Anderson told the brown-haired intruder ("about 5 feet 11 inches, 185 pounds") wore a grey tweed overcoat and carried a nickel-plated revolver. His actions were hidden from passers-by by the office's Venetian blinds, closed to keep out the glaring sunlight. He obtained the cash from the secretary, then ordered Mr. Read and Miss Anderson to lie face-down in loan room No. 3 for five minutes—orders which they obeyed for four minutes and 45 seconds.

Kleenex instead of Cash. The victim of Princeton's first reported swindle of '59 is Mrs. Elizabeth Weston, a 57-year-old domestic at 144 Hodge Road. She informed Borough police of her costly misfortune January 3, three days after a man known only as "Philip" and his unidentified male companion made off with her savings.

After being addressed on Nassau Street and asked for information concerning possible rooms for rent in Princeton, Mrs. Weston became involved in an argument regarding the advisability of keeping money in a bank. To prove a point, "Philip" escorted the unsuspecting woman to the First National Bank, where she was told to withdraw the $2,000—just to show us how easy withdrawals are." Mrs. Weston was given $150 for her time and trouble, then the $2,150 was supposedly wrapped in a handkerchief for safe-keeping. The victim was told to sleep with the "money" under her pillow for three days—"to make the amount grow"—but, when she finally awoke, it was a real nightmare because Kleenex tissues had been substituted for the cold cash in her handkerchief.

NO QUESTIONS ASKED: Most persons doing business with secretary Joyce Anderson at Household Finance's office in the Princeton Shopping Center require a number of telephonic credit checks. But not the daring, young hold-up man who pulled a brazen daylight job there on December 30. For details, see This Is Princeton.

Restaurant Workers Union, Local 741, on December 31 and walked off their jobs just before the New Year's Eve dinner crowd, including an upstairs party, was due. Said Michael J. Foulous, business agent for the union: "Those who struck represent the majority of Lahlere's employees. They merely wanted to sit down and negotiate, but the restaurant's owner refused, stating he would close his doors first. We want his recognition of the union and correction of some conditions, like the long hours for the chefs there."

After a full week of closed doors and pickets, Joseph Christen, the restaurant's proprietor, was scheduled to reopen this Wednesday with some former employees and some new ones inside and police observers along with the pickets outside. Mr. Christen, regretting the inconvenience caused his customers and asking for their continued patronage through the present labor difficulties, explained that "there had been no request received for increased wages or altered working conditions, but differences had developed over the demand for an immediate recognition of the union and enforcement of a closed shop, which I felt was unfair to my non-union employees."

Radio Station "Needed." According to a spokesman for the newly formed New Jersey Broadcasting Company, financing for the proposed new station—with operations originating in Princeton—already has been secured through the local stockholders, nine of whom live in the Township, two in the Borough, with residents of Kingston, West Windsor and Hopewell rounding out the group. Horace W. Gross, a Washington with broad experience in the broadcasting field, "has been elected president and general manager of the corporation, and will move here when and if the license is granted by the FCC."

Noting that the group of "young business and professional men" has successfully obtained an option on the ideal property for the transmitter site northwest of Princeton, Mr. Gross said: "It is our wish to present the type of programming that will satisfy the various tastes of the residents of this unique community. If our application is approved, we shall attempt to work with the important segments of the Princeton area . . . to make every contribution we can to the life of the community. The Greater Princeton area has no full-time radio station which it can call its own. Furthermore, Princeton itself has no daily local communication service. We sincerely believe there is a need for such a service."

Mr. Rodweller was injured about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon while moving an awkward appliance down his cellar steps. Slipping and falling to the hard floor, he was knocked unconscious. Police officers rushed him to Princeton Hospital for emergency treatment, which was done successfully—and the familiar figure was back at his ambulance-driving job the next day.

PERSONALITIES
Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Burger, 14 Charlton Street, who have ample reason to paint the town red this Wednesday, their 50th wedding anniversary. Natives of Elizabeth and Philadelphia, respectively, the Burgers have lived in their current home for the past 31 years and in addition to four children in this area, have a total of six grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Mr. Burger established his own painting business here more than a quarter-century ago.

Mr. Joseph R. Wood, 116 Moore Street, a member of the Borough Board of Health and an executive civic leader, has earned a distinction this week when she became the first woman ever elected chairman of the local Republican group representing the GOP County Committee members from the Borough's eight districts. Mrs. Wood, County Committeewoman in the fifth district, will succeed Charles R. Erdman Jr., who has resigned since his election as chairman of the New Jersey State Republican Committee.

Miss Sarah R. Hanes, Merwick, wheelchair guest at Princeton Hospital's long-term nursing unit who will hold an exhibit of her paintings from 3 to 5 Saturday at Merwick. A graduate of Vassar College and a teacher at Moorestown Friends School for more than two decades, Miss Hanes turned to painting just last April, encouraged by Mrs. R. B. Kimble, a hospital volunteer. Now she has 10 oils to display—proof positive that her new-found hobby is "a gratifying creative outlet."

ROUND-UP
NEWS OF NOTE: 1958 was another record year at Princeton Hospital, with a total of 1,054 babies born . . . this compares with 995 births in 1957 and 899 in 1956 and was achieved without benefit of numerous multiple births, since only four sets of twins were recorded as opposed to a dozen sets the previous year . . . peak months in the Maternity Department were May, with 107 babies born, and August, with 100 . . . speaking of newsworthy figures, the Town Topics' Christmas Fund hit $3,616.95 this week or more than $120 better than 1957's record-establishing total . . . the Borough Engineering Department did some figuring this week, too, reporting that there are 100 buildings without visible street numbers in the municipality, there are several hundred cracked sidewalks that will need mending come spring and special budget funds will be necessary to finish the job of giving the Borough a new set of "stop" signs.

Weather played a key role in the Princeton picture this past week . . . the extreme cold gave Carnegie Lake an eight-inch layer of ice, which prompted Sgt. Peter J. McCrohan to announce that all sections of the lake are now safe for skating . . . strong winds Monday evening dismantled several Public Service wires and caused a west side blackout for 30 minutes or so . . . and Borough maintenance men, looking ahead and predicting snow, urged residents to enable proper plowing by getting their cars off the streets when the next storm comes . . . incidentally, the Borough recorded its first general alarm fire of the New Year shortly after 1 a.m. January 1, when volunteers were summoned to extinguish a rug blaze in the living room at 14 East Stanworth Drive, home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Woodward.

TOPICS Of the Town

PLANNING MARATHON
Over Cedar-Riverside Area.
Among the items contributing to a near-record session of the Borough Planning Board Tuesday evening (3 hours and 42 minutes) was informal discussion of the possibility that Hampton Homes, Inc. might be permitted to build 23 homes on the eight-acre tract bounded by Riverside Drive on the east and Cedar Lane on the west.

The proposed plan for the site, one of the few remaining "open areas" in the Borough and directly across Riverside Drive from the Township's blueprinted "Riverside School," projected the extension of Prospect Avenue easterly to Riverside Drive and brought the Borough's planners face-to-face to Township reactions to the idea and to increased traffic congestion.

Before proceeding with its study of the proposal, and "totin' up" how such a 33-home development might contribute to traffic problems in the lake-locked corner of Borough and Township, the Planning Board instructed Edward B. Van Note, engineer for "Hampton Estates," to check through with the Township Planning Board.

University Projects. Two possible major additions to the University's physical plant, a wing for Goyot Hall (biology and geology) at the corner of Washington and College Roads and the construction of a computer building in the vicinity of University Field, were pondered and in general terms given a "green light" by the Planning Board.

The latter, a two-story building of masonry construction, is scheduled for consideration by the Board of Adjustment ("Zoning Board") at a meeting this Thursday evening at 8 in Borough Hall.

SUBDIVISION PLANNED
In Northwest Township. Preliminary plans for a 51-lot subdivision in Princeton Township were unveiled this week at a meeting of the Township Planning Board. The Board took the plans "under advisement" pending more complete sketches and information.

The large development is being sought by Mrs. Catherine Monck, who is anxious to cut up some 120 acres on The Great Road between properties belonging to Mrs. Helen Benson and the Ten-acre Foundation. The Township planners advised her that the Board of Health must approve the proposed area before they can take any further action.

Meanwhile, the planners suggested that the early sketches be studied by the subcommittee on roads and traffic of the Citizens Advisory Committee, since the road layout must conform with recommendations being developed in connection with the Township's Master Plan.

TOP PRIORITY PROJECT?
Urban Renewal. Of Course, Princeton's No. 1 priority project for the coming year is Urban Renewal. Although it is a tough, controversial matter requiring much time, patience and hard work, it must be faced squarely and resolved, once and for all. Such was the highlight gist of Mayor Raymond E. Male's second annual message, read at the Borough's traditional reorganization meeting New Year's Day.

The mayor gave an indication of his firm belief in Urban Renewal when he emphasized that it is "the beginning of a process whereby this full-grown Borough can renew itself, rebuild itself selectively, think through its objectives as a community and use the modern skills of sound municipal planning to prevent the kind of decay that has plagued many old towns. We can improve our town physically, and even more importantly, we can promote better living for the people of Princeton."

Taking stock of his administration's "open government" policy, Mayor Male pledged continuance of several practices which earned Council and the mayor himself considerable praise in 1958. Specifically, he referred to Council's regular agenda preparation conferences, the highly successful "open house" sessions that are conducted on a weekly basis and the mayor's weekly report to the press.

In his message, Mayor Male underscored the public safety measures accomplished in the past year (i. e., the new fire prevention ordinance, the revitalization of Civil Defense and Disaster Control and the appointment of Dean Donald MacIntyre to conduct the study of the Borough's police organization). He also covered progress achieved in planning, traffic flow, parking, recreation, housing, the truck by-pass and in use of the Witherspoon Community building.

Capital Budget Plan. Mayor Male stressed the importance of Council's Future of Princeton Committee, noting that "it would be my hope that the Committee on the Future of Princeton might undertake the development of a capital budget plan for the Borough which will suggest the necessary and prudent investment over the next several years in such major capital undertakings as Urban Renewal, a municipal building, adequate joint Public Library facilities, and further possible land acquisition or development for recreational purposes."

The mayor lauded the efforts of retiring Councilman Harry A. Farr, retiring Collector-Treasurer Wilbur F. Kerr Sr., retiring Police Chief John H. Smith and the late Henry W. Kenarney, as assistant to the Borough engineer, "who had carried major responsibility with a great degree of skill." He also praised Captain Geoffrey Sage, the new director of Civil Defense and Disaster Control who is establishing a new headquarters in the basement of the Witherspoon building, and the Borough's two meter men, who have relieved two patrolmen of the coin collections and have equipped an inexpensive panel truck as a mobile repair shop.

Mayor Male announced that Mr. Kenarney's position has just been filled by Robert H. Albrecht, an engineer with a distinguished background that includes 14 years as the Hamilton, N.Y., engineer

—CHILLY WILLY

Not only Willy, but thousands of others in this area were chilly this week, as temperatures dipped close to 12 degrees and near zero in outlying areas. What with the wind blowing out of Canada's deep freeze in gusts over 50 miles an hour, the vote for violets would be virtually unanimous.

That, however, was weeks away. Meantime: a gradual easing of the bitter cold, high temperatures starting all the way to the mid 30's, and no rain or snow expected this weekend.

and eight years as an engineer for the du Pont organization. The mayor also welcomed Gordon Waldron, who will complete Mr. Kerr's unexpired, one-year term; Dr. M. H. Lund, who is replacing Dr. P. C. Tan as Borough police surgeon; and Walter Coon of Princeton Engine Company No. 1, the community's new fire chief. (See picture, page 15.)

With the unprecedented renaming of Dan D. Coyle as Council president for a second year, the governing body made its committee assignments for the year ahead. Mr. Coyle will serve as police commissioner and continue as chairman of the Committee on the Future of Princeton, Councilman Colman will supervise health, welfare and recreation, Councilman Sorenson will head the public works committee, Councilman Lester will deal again with financial matters, Councilman Mather will be fire commissioner, and newcomer John B. Redding Jr. will head civil defense.

PLAYERS' CAST CHOSEN

For January Drama. Cast selections were announced this week for the Dylan Thomas drama, "Under Milkwood," which the Princeton Community Players will give this month. The production will open at the Alexander Street Playmill on Friday, January 23, and will be presented each Friday and Saturday evening for three successive weekends.

Three veteran members of the dramatic organization, whose numerous roles have never failed to be a source of enjoyment to Players' audiences, have been cast in leading roles. They are Georgine Hall, Helen Van Zandt and Moyné Smith. Two others who have been on the Playmill stage of late are Kate Chaplin and Reed Armstrong.

Benjamin Maughan and Betty Fussell will be heard in the role of narrators, while the cast will also include seven newcomers. This group consists of William Berkle, Alan Sheldon, Shulmish Oppenheimer, Philip Collins, Philip Ashby, Arthur Good and Katherine Banard.

The Junior Community Players will contribute ten of their number to "Under Milkwood." They will appear as a chorus, marking the first time Junior Players have joined the senior group on stage.

John F. Becker is directing, with Nancy Houghton serving as assistant to the director. Jacques Kuperman, well-known artist who has moved to Princeton and is living at 12 Maple Street, will design the single set.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Gigi (January 8-13), from Colette's saucy French novel, is a smart, sophisticated, adult comedy, filmed in beautifully elaborate Paris settings in Cinema-Scope and color. Produced by Cecil Beaton and directed by Vincente Minelli, "Gigi" keeps bubbling for two hours, thanks in no small part to its bright and amiable book and its lush and lovely costumes. The pace is just right for a completely delightful filmusical.

COMING SOON: Spencer Tracy, who scored such notable success in "The Last Hurrah" a month ago, will be seen at the Playhouse soon in "The Old Man and the Sea." Ernest Hemingway's stirring story.

Of course, the music is vitally important, too, and, in this case, the 10 new tunes by Alan Jay Lerner and Fred Lowe — of "My Fair Lady" eminence — comprise a fitting, memorable score. The cast is a good one for this particular MGM vehicle, Leslie Caron doing nicely in the title role and receiving some experienced support from the likes of Louis Jourdan, Maurice Chevalier, Hermoine Gingold and Isabel Jeans.

Auntie Mame (January 14-20) is none other than Rosalind Russell, repeating delightfully the zany role she played for two years on Broadway. There's no use discussing plot in this case — there just isn't any — but the series of dovetailing vignettes through which Roz cavorts is so amusing and quick-paced, that there's no need for plot. The film version of the best-selling novel by Patrick Dennis, who based his wild tale on life with his wacky aunt and her wackier friends, is even funnier than the stage version, thanks to the witty contributions of writers Betty Comden and Adolph Green.

Miss Russell, improving with age, sets a new high in her career as a comedienne, providing enough vitality to keep "Auntie Mame" rolling at breakneck speed for almost two and a half hours. Fortunately, her supporting cast is "help," too, with Vera Charles outstanding as Mame's best friend, Forrest Tucker appropriately pompous as a blustering suitor from the South and Fred Clark letter-perfect as a snobbish bank trustee. Norton DaCosta's noteworthy direction is facilitated handsomely by Harry Stradling's Technirama-Technicolor camerawork, Orry-Kelly's high fashion costuming and art director Valcoim Best's significant changes of decor.

Liane, Jungle Goddess (January 8-13), in German with English dubbed in, unveils Marion Michael, billed as Gorman's answer to Brigitte Bardot. Miss Michael makes mighty eye-catching foreground material for the African location backgrounds, filmed in enchanting Eastman Color, but the story is a little hard to follow. Marion is cast as a jungle queen ruling a huge domain with the blessing and guidance of a primitive hunting and warring tribe. Lean, blonde Hardy Kruger, orchid-seeking in Darkest Africa, gets himself captured by the tribe, only to be saved by you-know-who. In return, the Hardy boy helps unmask the murderer of Marion's father — a rich ship-builder no less — and Marion

MUSIC In Princeton

FINE ARTS QUARTET

Music Will Interest Princeton. Music lovers in Princeton will be particularly interested in the program that has been scheduled for the forthcoming Fine Arts Quartet concert to be held Monday at 8:30 p.m. in McCarter Theater.

William Masselos, a resident of Princeton for many years, will join the quartet in a performance of Brahms' Quintet in F Minor for Piano and Strings, Opus 34. Mr. Masselos made his first public appearance as a pianist at the age of seven, and won a scholarship to the Juilliard School of Music two years later.

After his New York debut in Town Hall and subsequent recitals in Town Hall and Carnegie Hall, he began a series of annual tours that have taken him to every major city on the continent. In 1952, he appeared with the New York Philharmonic under Mitropoulos and he will play again with the Philharmonic under Mitropoulos this March.

Although he will appear with the Fine Arts Quartet as an interpreter of Brahms, he is particularly noted for his interest in contemporary music. He has given a number of recitals in Princeton.

Andrew Imbrie, another young man closely associated with Princeton, will figure in the Fine Arts Quartet program. The group will play his third String Quartet as the first work on Monday night's program. A graduate of Princeton with the class of 1942, Mr. Imbrie studied with Roger Sessions in Berkeley, California, and has been a member of the music faculty at the University of California ever since. Mr. Imbrie has received the Prix de Rome, a Guggenheim Fellowship and the New York Critics' award. His compositions include works for orchestra, chorus, various chamber music combination, opera and songs. His recent violin chorus, various chamber music combinations, opera and songs. His recent violin concerto was played during a five-week festival dedicating the $2,200,000 music center at the University of California.

The final work on the program will be Mozart's Quartet in C major, K. 465, one of Mozart's late quartets, a work that is notable for distances which were rare in musical compositions of the late eighteenth century.

The Fine Arts Quartet, which ranks among the leading ensembles of the country, has recorded for Decca, Mercury and Vanguard. The group has appeared in concert throughout the United States and Canada, playing at the Frick Museum, the Library of Congress, the Berkshire Festival and the Ravinia Festival.

Tickets for the Princeton concert are on sale at the University Store and may be purchased at the McCarter box-office on Monday evening.

FISH AND FOWL

Fresh and Fine. In that exclusive little arcade at the Princeton Shopping Center just off the south end of the east parking lot (you with us?), there is a fish and poultry market. There is also a dry-cleaning establishment and an automatic laundry but we are concerned here with fish.

Center Fish and Poultry Mart is a clean, scrubbed little store with almost no fish-market odor. Its cases, with their cold, thick beds of ice, hold a neat display of fresh, top-quality fish and fowl.

Oysters now, of course. The slippery little silver fellows have been dumped into deep metal pans where they wait for a Walrus and a Carpenter to take them for a walk. You'll recall that the Walrus liked his with bread, pepper and vinegar.

You might try some in a milky stew one of these cold nights. The Mart has oyster crackers in a bag on top of the counter. "Now if you're ready, Oysters dear, we begin to feed . . ."

The little bay scallops and the big sea scallops are here, too, and swordfish steaks thick as a sirloin with the characteristic scrolls of dark, rich meat. There's halibut and salmon, too; bluefish, mackerel, those ridiculous little butterfish that always look like toys, porgies and bass—no, no; PORGIES AND BASS.

Lemon sole from northern waters appear frequently at the Center Mart but apparently the breezes are too cold for northern fishermen, because the supply is erratic at the moment. Try filets of haddock and flounder until your ship comes in.

Clam fans will want steamers, little necks and cherrystones. Sauces, hot and tartare, are bottled and ready on top of the counter.

Over in the poultry department, shoppers will find fresh-killed chickens (cut up or whole), ducklings, geese, capons and guinea hens. The shop also has farm-fresh eggs every day. Call WA-45178 for delivery.

It's About Time

The watch-cleaning process at Pakman's on Witherspoon Street is almost as up-to-date as the lunik.

Mr. Pakman has decided that the old-fashioned way of cleaning watches (whatever that may have been) is much too slow and he has sped things up so that your watch is now cleaned with the speed of sound, if not light.

Behind Mr. Pakman's counter is an ultra-sonic watch cleaning thing that looks like a photographer's enlarger. You take your watch apart—or, better still, let Mr. Pakman take it apart—and immerse it in a cleaning fluid. Sound waves are transmitted from the ultra-sonic unit to the liquid to the watch. The waves make sound bubbles that bounce off the works and jar the dirt loose. Fast and thorough.

What happens when you take time apart and subject its components to the speed of sound we leave to the metaphysicians. The watch we leave with Mr. Pakman.

Steam Heat. You can stock up for winter at Thorne's Pharmacy and fortified with your purchases, you can meet blasts of hot or cold air with impunity and immunity.

For those who have—and who does not?—living quarters with air so hot and dry that a piece of bread left on the breakfast table is toasted by lunch, Thorne's suggests a vaporizer.

These Prak-T-Kal chambers are designed to help people with colds, as you know, and the usual practice is to fill them with some medication or other. However, if you just fill them with water and plug them in, you can raise the level of humidity, not to August levels, but to something a little better than what most of us have.

There are three models: $4.95, $8.95 and $12.50, and they run four, eight and 24 hours respectively. The vaporizer has a sealed chamber so that the unit itself remains cool even though things are boiling furiously inside.

The next thing you want is a GE sunlamp kit ($12.98) with lamp and adjustable holder. The holder is a clamp-on thing with safety guard. Cheaper than Florida and no sand in your shoes.

For the northern outdoor type, Thorne's has its usual supply of Tussy Wind-and-Weather in lotion or hand cream, and Chera-my's Skin Balm. To remind you that spring is a possibility, there are the violet bottles of Lilacs in the Snow; Duchess of York cologne and spray mist each one pleasantly reduced in price ($1.50 for $2 value, $2 for $3).

Matchabelli puts Abano perfumed bath oil capsules into flat packets you can put in your purse (bath oil in your purse?). You get 18 for a dollar, 40 for $2. Matchabelli says Abano is so deliciously pleasant "It's almost sinful." Thorne's assumes no responsibility.

DuBarry cares for winter complexions with Cloudsilk pearled face powder and Royal Velvet Foundation, both for $3.50, a $2 saving, which is enough to save anybody's skin.

- After each party, let clothes air out at least overnight. Then inspect for food spots, beverage splashes, perspiration or other soil.
- If okay, a little shaking or even brushing won't hurt to smooth out minor creases. Hang in closet on wide (not wire) hangers protected by garment bags . . . and don't crowd.
- Have soiled or badly crumpled things reconditioned immediately. For this purpose nothing quite equals our Sanitone Dry Cleaning Service. So call us without delay.

"FIRST BABY" OF NEW YEAR: Donald Jerome Owens, all seven pounds and 11 ounces of him, arrived at Princeton Hospital at 3:58 a.m. January 1, giving Mr. and Mrs. James E. Owens of Hightstown the honor of being parents of the Greater Princeton community's first '59 baby. Young Donald, the Owens' second child and second boy, actually was expected Christmas Day, but the proud parents were delighted to greet him a week later. As Town Topics went to press, all Owens was reported "doing fine"—baby, mother and father, who happens to be hospitalized with a collapse of a lung.

It's New To Us
Center, the silk prints look like jungles of Brazilian butterflies. There are luminous blues, greens and violets swirled together on full, gathered skirts. Not all of these social butterflies are silk, to be sure. Many are camouflaged and when you examine them closely you find they are really cotton. But who's to know? Jerry Gliden has, for Ell, just such a cotton print. It comes in turquoise, red or green, each one camouflaged with navy and formed into a full-skirted dress with deep scoop neck and shirred bodice. Suzy Perette provides a fall with a demure navy shantung, buttoned down the front with self buttons and checked off with three bows: one at neck, one just above waist, one just above hemline.

In the designer collection at Rosette Frongation, there's a white linen sheath with a deep arrow-shaped neckline in back, a cowl front, an ice-blue mohair stole to keep off the trade winds and a pocket of ice blue linen shaped like a leaf cluster and sprinkled with sequins. Vera Maxwell presents an ice-blue linen with raglan sleeves and wide cross-hatches that give the bodice an Empire air.

Exdiver of Grenelle takes three shades of purple, brings them to a point at the waist, then lets them flare out in the skirt, giving the wearer a kind of "X" look. He ena do it in blue, too. A crinoline underlies it all.

He also has a black linen sheath with no sleeves (only hooks and eyes fasten shoulder front to shoulder back) and a flaring capelet in back that starts at neckline and stops just at waist. There's a wide white leather belt, just to give you a surprise. A black silk shantung, cut from a similar pattern, has a holerin-like top, which means that the capelet hangs down in front, too.

Kasper takes lilac linen for a sheath with double-breasted jacket and folded stait belt. Adele Simpson plants chintreuse roses with olive stems on white ground. These are small, regular rows of roses, not spiky ones. Glee Cassini, on the other hand, takes great big blue roses that Jackson and Perkins never saw and with his high-bred taste, makes a silk sarah with Empire top, a flashing insert of white and a flat, feigned bow.

Bathing suits will be along presently at the Shopping Center shop, so don't lock your suitcase.

GOC Members to Be Honored.
Service awards will be presented to 114 skywatchers Tuesday as the Mercer County Ground Observer Corps officially closes up shop in the face of improved technology. The awards to Corps members with three years of active service will be made during a public meeting at the Army Reserve Armory in Mercerville.
The ground observer aircraft warning system, directed by the U. S. Air Force, has been outdated by improvements in radar and other mechanical devices which can do the job better than human eyes, according to Lt. Col. John S. Dietz, USAF, ground observer coordinator for New Jersey and Delaware. The system functioned around the clock in Mercer County from July, 1952, to January, 1958. During the past year, activity has been limited to a dozen practice alerts.
More than 200 volunteers manned the Princeton unit of the county system during its six years of existence. All activity in the county organization will end January 31. The Borough and Township will be represented at the closing ceremonies by Captain Geoffrey Sage, chairman of the Princeton Disaster Control Committee, and Hayward Greenland, former supervisor of the Princeton post.

PRINCETON'S ONLY FATAL TRAFFIC ACCIDENT OF 1958: A 19-year-old Hopewell girl, Irene Carter, was killed instantly December 30 when the two-door sedan in which she was riding was wrapped around a utility pole on Washington Road. Her death, with less than 48 hours remaining in the old year, marred the community's otherwise perfect highway record for 1958. The car's driver, Ernest Anderson, 21, of Trenton, was thrown clear, and suffered relatively minor injuries. Township police estimated his speed going up Washington at "close to 100." BUSY DAYS AHEAD
For Township Committee. Warning his colleagues that there is "no possibility of relaxing time demands," R. Kenneth Fairman, newly-chosen chairman of the Princeton Township Committee, told the Committee— at their reorganization session January 2—that they can expect busy days ahead under his leadership. The new mayor, fourth in the municipality in as many years, said completion of the Master Plan will be the Township's principal order of business, since it is destined to guide the municipality through its next quarter-century of growth.

Mayor Fairman traced the governing body's record during 1958, pointing out that 57 meetings were conducted in 12 months' time, the average lasting three and a half hours and some sessions requiring more than five. The next regular gathering of the Committee will be held at 8:30 next Monday, with a Terhune Road ordinance likely to be introduced, but this will be only one of a half-dozen January meetings for the Committee, what with budget problems to be ironed out.

Hoping that action will speak louder than words in 1959, the new mayor kept his remarks brief and touched only generally on the difficult hurdles to be overcome by the current Committee. He also paid tribute to his outgoing predecessor, Charles A. Hürford, who rated similar accolades from the other members of the group.

Mr. Fairman announced Committee chairmanships for 1959, as follows: Committeeman Smoyer, vice-chairman of the Committee itself (a newly-designated post), plus recreation, parks and playgrounds, library and sanitation; Committeeman Campbell, police, civil defense, law, elections and fire; Committeeman Mount, engineering and public works, plus planning and zoning; newcomer William W. Marvel (see photo, page 17), health, welfare and school board liaison; and Mayor Fairman, administration, finance, personnel and buildings and grounds.

LIGHTER AGENDA

Council Gets Break. A relatively light agenda faces Mayor Male and Borough Council for their regular January meeting at 8 next Tuesday. This comes as a much-needed break, inasmuch as the city fathers have been particularly busy with Urban Renewal during recent months and no doubt will have budget matters to concern them in the weeks just ahead if they are to see its introduction at a special session tentatively scheduled for January 28.

The items on the docket: (1) Possible amendment to the Fire Prevention Ordinance to clarify membership, terms and method of appointment of Fire Prevention Bureau members. (2)

Passage of a resolution regarding highway lighting agreement. (3) Passage of a resolution renewing University Place and Mercer Street Extension municipal parking lot, renewable every six months by agreement. (4) Receipt of a report from the Borough attorney on the University Place parking situation near the railroad station.

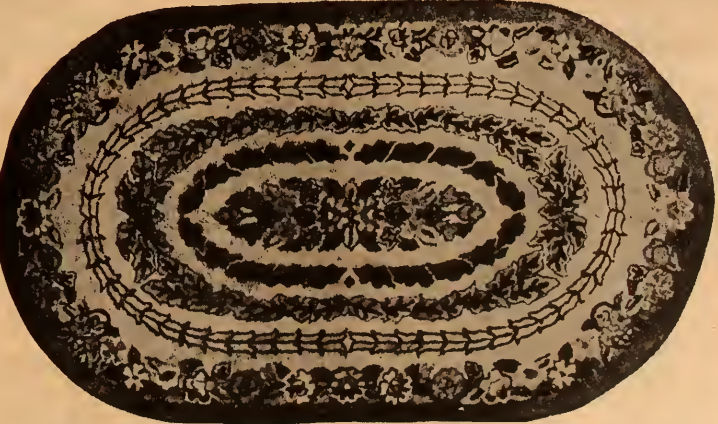

In its mailbag this week, Council received a letter from Mrs. Harold Sprout, president of the Council of Community Services, stating endorsement of the four principles enunciated in a previous message to Council from the Princeton Community Relations Group. The principles:

- We oppose more public housing in the John-Witherspoon Streets area.
- We urge re-location of those displaced by Urban Renewal outside of the John-Witherspoon Streets area.
- We believe that this administration—

School Budget Higher

The Borough Board of Education has completed a proposed 1959-60 school budget showing an increase of $113,206.90—an amount which puts the total budget at $1,445,896.87 and means that the tax rate for school purposes should not go up by more than six points. A public hearing on the proposed figures will be held at 8 January 19 in the Board Room at Princeton High School.

According to the Board's estimates, the net amount to be raised is $648,896.87, since reductions will bring in about $680,000. State and Federal funds will contribute $65,000 and current balances stand at $12,000. Reasons why the additional funds are needed: (1) New teachers so that class sizes may be cut; (2) The third and final year requirements of the salary adjustment plan approved unanimously two years ago; (3) Miscellaneous supplies and equipment.

Spring in behalf of his fellow Board members, Graham Rohrer said, "The Board of Education presents this budget in the belief that the citizens of Princeton desire to maintain the high standards which have resulted in present success, and an affirmative vote will guarantee the continuance of a high level of public education for the coming school year."

• We urge wider public discussion of the location of future public housing.

HARRISON HARASSED

Accident-Prone Street. South Harrison Street was the scene of two unusual traffic mishaps in less than a week's time, and fortunately the motorists involved came through without anything more serious than a pair of careless driving tickets.

On the evening of December 30, Radha A. Murthy, 26, of 214 Halsey Street, reportedly swung wide and fast as he made a right turn out of Western Way, and then the chain-reaction began. After sidestepping a parked auto belonging to Gerhard Hauser, 165 Harrison, Mr. Murthy banged into the rear of a parked car owned by Ashok A. Bhavnani, 169 Harrison, whose vehicle struck another parked car belonging to Rae B. Thompson, 169 Harrison, whose vehicle hit still another parked auto. All five cars claimed assorted dents and paint blemishes.

At 10:30 this Monday morning, a 25,000-pound truck operated by T. A. Caloia, 41, of Iselin, and owned by the New Jersey Forwarding Company of Newark, snapped off a utility pole as the truck was proceeding northward after crossing the Carnegie Lake bridge. Mr. Caloia told Township patrolmen that a passing car forced him off the roadway and he hit the pole while trying to avoid the auto.

PETITIONS FILED

For School Board Elections. Five residents of Princeton Township have filed for election to the Board of Education and one incumbent has announced that he will run, making a six-man race for three seats.

The incumbent who will seek re-election is John S. Donal, Jr., of 264 Snowden Lane. The other aspirants are Joel B. Johnson, 152 Cedar Lane; Glen B. Miller, Jr., 243 Russell Road; Richard Pearson, 187 Valley Road; Leonard Hymerling, 293 Jefferson Road and Oscar Sussman, 42 Clover Lane.

In the Borough, J. Van Skillman of 82 Harriet Drive, will campaign for one of the three positions. Incumbents Dr. Henry Abrams, Mrs. Grace M. Loetscher and Bryan V. Moore have all filed for re-election on the Borough board.

THE GALLERY EXHIBITS

From Princeton Collections. An exhibition of paintings from Princeton collections will be shown at the Little Gallery, 38 Palmer Square, for two weeks starting this Sunday afternoon and including Sunday afternoon, January 18. The show will benefit the Princeton High School P.T.A. Scholarship Fund and a box will be placed by the door to receive contributions to the Fund. There will be no admission charge.

Paintings which have been lent by private collectors in Princeton include works by Braque, Picasso, Van Gogh, Matisse, Gauguin, Millet, Roussin and Klee.

The Gallery held a similar exhibition two years ago, and according to Larom B. Munson, director of the Gallery, the forthcoming show will include many pictures which were not shown in 1956. Other artists shown will be Cezanne, Bonnard, Redon, Nolde, DaSilva and the 15th century artist Van Kaiker who will be represented by a Madonna.

Collectors who have lent their pictures are Mr. and Mrs. Gerardo E. Lambert, Richard Ludwig, Dr. and Mrs. Marion Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Peyton, Mr. and Mrs. David Savage, Mrs. A. E. McVitty, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mackie, Mrs. Herbert Langfield and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murray.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taplin, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bolter, Mr. and Mrs. Barklie Henry, Countess Stella Andassy, Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Spaniel, Dr. and Mrs. Jacques Martin, Edward Hubler and Mr. and Mrs. John Davies.

"An exhibition of this quality could not possibly be gathered in any other towns in the country outside the major metropolitan centers," Mr. Munson said. "We are encouraging groups to come from the schools in this area to take advantage of this unique opportunity."

MEMBERS INDUCTED

By Rotary Club. The Princeton Rotary Club gained five new members at its weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Nassau Tavern. They are James Hillier, vicepresident of RCA; James L. Knipe, consulting economist; Robert Popino, plant manager of American Cyanamid; Edward Scholz, personnel director of RCA; and Edward Burke, general manager of the Princeton Packet. Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, past president of the club, inducted the men. Lew Unsworth, past governor of the Central New Jersey District of Rotary International, gave a talk on the history and aims of the organization.

PTA TO HEAR TEST DATA. ETS Official Will Speak. Dr. Martin Katz, a member of Educational Testing Service's guidance and counseling division, will explain the uses of aptitude tests at the elementary school level for members of the Littlebrook School PTA next Tuesday at 8. The meeting will be held in the school's all-purpose room. Following Dr. Katz's talk, —Continued on Page 12—

DRIVER LOSES LICENSE

Mr. Ewman's Car. A 19-year-old motorist who allegedly hit the car of an auxiliary fireman hurrying to a blaze and then left his license suspended for a year by Magistrate Theodore T. Jr., in Borough Court. The sentence was imposed on a 232 F. E. Road, who was convicted of driving the automobile of fireman Alex Donald early January 1. Mr. Donald was on his way to a fire on East Stanworth Drive.

Other fines were imposed on Edward D. Jurj, 17, of 86 Mercer Street, $10 for failure to carry license; and C. D. Kerr, 19, of Constitution Hill, $25 for speeding.

CONTINUES LAW PRACTICE

French Remains at 10 Nassau. Ery H. French, counselor at law and former partner of French and Cook, will continue the practice of law in his office at 10 Nassau Street. Dissolution of the firm of French and Cook was announced last week.

A graduate of Haverford College who also holds degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and Rutgers University Law School, Mr. French has been a member of the New Jersey Bar for the past 10 years. He taught at Princeton University before joining the Rutgers University faculty, where he is now chairman of the Department of Economics.

Mr. French, the author of numerous articles in the fields of housing, real estate law and taxation, has been a member of the Ethics and Grievance Committee of the Mercer County Bar. During the past decade, he has been active as a member of several civic organizations in Princeton.

POSTAL EXAM SLATED

Earlier Job Open. The Princeton Post Office has announced a job vacancy for a rural mail carrier. Residents of the Princeton area may apply for the position until January 27. Application forms for the required written examination are available at the post office and must be mailed to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., before the closing date.

Applicants must have reached their 18th birthday before January 27. There is no upper age limit, but persons over 70 will be considered only for temporary renewal appointments of one year. First consideration will be given to residents of the Princeton Post Office's delivery area, but others who live within a five-mile radius of the office are invited to apply.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

Guest From Philippines. Father Thomas Convery, a missionary from the Philippines, will address the Parent-Teacher Association of St. Paul's School in the school auditorium at 8 next Tuesday. Parents will have an opportunity to meet with the teachers and sisters in their classrooms before the lecture. Refreshments will be served by a committee of fifth grade mothers, including Mrs. Joseph Fife, Mrs. R. F. Tresselt, Mrs. Frank Durkin, Mrs. John Ross and Mrs. Edward Dickey.

ADULT COURSES LISTED

Registration Ends Thursday. Registration for the Princeton Adult School closes Thursday with final sign-up sessions from 4 to 6 and 8 to 10 at Princeton High School. Prospective students must enroll in person and fines will be levied for late registration.

Among the courses offered by the school during the spring term is "Managing One's Investments," an informal lecture series given by Simeon Hauer, investment manager for the Wall Street firm of Paulier and Hauer, beginning January 15. Also offered are courses in physical exercises for men and women, supervised by Richard Swimmer, athletic coach at Princeton University, and Mrs. Joyce Schell, a graduate of the Royal Academy of Dancing in London.

"YEAR OF DECISIONS": In response to an all-important Question of the Week (see answers below), both R. Kenneth Fairman (left) and Raymond F. Male, mayors of Princeton Township and Borough, respectively, concur that 1959 will be a "year of decisions"—vital ones to the future of the Princeton community. (Steltzer Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: What do you feel is the greatest challenge facing Princeton in 1959?

Location: Around town.

Raymond F. Male, 76 Cedar Lane, mayor of Princeton Borough: As I see it, there is no one specific thing facing us—that is, a specific physical project or single item. The challenge really is composed of the various problems and opportunities on deck. We must do something about the future and, at the same time, maintain our traditions. In '59, we should be able to nail down some decisions and see some forward motion. Regarding Urban Renewal, for example, '58 was a negative year—'59 should be positive. I envision more and more Borough and Township cooperation — in engineering, in our schools and many other places.

R. Kenneth Fairman, Rosedale Lane, mayor of Princeton Township: I think that 1959 is going to be a year of decisions in Princeton. In '59, we must face squarely the implications of the predicted rapid growth of our community. We know that the Township population will be doubled by 1975. This year, the citizens of the Township will be called upon to adopt a blueprint for the future in the form of a Master Plan and to take measures to implement the immediate, vital aspects of that plan. What Princeton will be 25 years from now will depend largely upon the decisions we have the courage to make in the coming months.

Mrs. Elwood J. Lawrence, Princeton-Lawrenceville Road, housewife: There are so many, many problems it's hard to pick just one. But I would say anything that can be done about routing the heavy trucks around Princeton would be marvelous. Of course, a certain number of trucks are necessary, but they do cause awful traffic jams in heart of Princeton. And they don't want to go through the town either. When I first came here 50-some years ago, there would just be two or three vehicles on the road after the University was out. I guess you have to pay a price for progress, but there's definitely too much traffic on Nassau Street now.

Mrs. Byron E. Keene, Poe Road, housewife: Parking is the problem I know most about, so I'd put that top on the list. I don't know what can be done about the situation beyond what has been done, but I do feel there just isn't enough parking space in Princeton. The parol solution we've hit on is the purchase of a small American car!

Cecil A. Bodine, Kingston, retired: I think proper preparation in the field of civil defense the greatest challenge for Princeton during 1959. No one community has really done enough in this regard, but it's particularly important for Princeton because of its location. The whole area is a vital one to an enemy since this region is not only a research center, but there's a lot of industry nearby as well.

Mrs. H. F. Cherniss, 98 Battle Road, former president of the League of Women Voters: What chiefly challenges the Princeton community is the question whether it can recognize in time the necessity for planning to resolve as a single community the problems involved in its swift and continuous growth. The governing bodies of the Borough and Township have recently been drawn closer together by the circumstances of some problems that demand a common approach. Whether the citizens will support these forward-looking steps depends upon their understanding of the function of their government and upon their awareness of their power as citizens.

From Plato To Einstein

Garrett's "Woodrow Wilson" was the first book the Princeton unit was requested to record. Other works which have been made available to the blind through the reading of Princetonians include Einstein's "Relativity," "Dialogues of Plato," and "Beginning German" by Schinnerer. Often professors at Princeton University are called upon to read a highly-specialized work.

The Princeton unit is entirely self-supporting and receives no financial aid from the national headquarters, so it must rely on contributions of Princeton residents. Funds sent to New York do not directly help the organization here and are not credited to it. At present, contributions are greatly needed by the Princeton branch; the address is Recording for the Blind, 100 Stockton Street.

"BOOKS" FOR THE BLIND Recordings Made Here. The educational resources of the Princeton community have been used to provide "books" for the blind in an unusual project started here. Established last March, the Princeton branch of "Recording for the Blind" uses area residents to record works ranging from Plato to theoretical physics. During the first six months of operation, 14 books were completed and another 19 were in production. Out of a total of 200 Princetonians who volunteered as readers, 113 were accepted by a committee of blind and sighted people in New York after listening to test recordings.

The volunteers carry on their

Opposes Federal Housing.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I should like to state my agreement with the recently quoted statement of the Rev. Benjamin Anderson that Princeton would do well to "keep its hands out of the Federal poke" so far as housing is concerned.

The reason is simple. Although housing is desperately needed in this community, as soon as you get Federal funds you get Federal regulations, and Federal regulations are so complex and detailed that the tenants of a housing project are deprived of many basic human liberties and satisfactions, although you satisfy temporarily the need for housing, you undermine the basic human security that makes it possible to have a home.

To illustrate: under present Federal regulations, you must qualify as having a certain minimum income in order to remain in a Federal housing project. Fair enough—but if your income increases, so does your rent, and you may find yourself paying an unreasonably high rent for the same accommodation. If your family income reaches a certain figure (and this figure is not a high one), you may well find yourself a candidate for eviction.

This is not precisely the best atmosphere for raising a family nor is it conducive to feeling secure in your own home. If your income rises beyond minimum figures, you must "get ready to move," and there are precious few places in Princeton to move to. The effect of all this is that it takes away any incentive to improve one's condition in life.

PRINCETON BOOK MART

WAInut 4-0018

This is not the fault of the hard-working and public-spirited citizens who sit on the Board of the Housing Authority nor yet of the equally hard-working Director of the Housing Project who tries to apply the multitudinous Federal regulations as fairly and wisely as possible.

The trouble lies with the regulations themselves which, in an attempt to provide housing for the minimum wage-earner, actually deprive the existing tenants of reasonable security in their home and family life. Living under Federal housing regulations is like filing an income tax return every time you pay the rent, a process that most of us consider occurs frequently enough when it happens once a year on April 15; for when you apply for Federal housing, you must lay bare all the details of your income and financial status in order to qualify.

If housing is needed in Princeton, as it certainly is, then, for goodness sake, let us do something about it on a private or community basis where some human understanding is involved. Let us not get mixed up in the teils of Federal regulations which may give a man a roof over his head but take away all incentive to get ahead or improve his economic status. With all this talk about "housing" it might be well to think a little more about what constitutes a "home."

Thanks From Santa Claus.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Now that "Operation Santa Claus" has completed its ninth year successfully, I would like to thank all the wonderful people who made it possible: the editors of TOWN TOPICS; Mrs. Mimi Morgan Jr., who very kindly donated her home and telephone again for my "North Pole Workshop"; the Bell Telephone Company, which made the program possible; Mrs. Karl Light, and the many Princeton merchants who gave me the most wonderful Christmas presents.

Since 1948, I have answered calls from hundreds of children, each one telling me what he would like for Christmas. Almost all of them have been most delightful and courteous, and I have learned to love the sound of their voices. I am grateful to the mothers who were so helpful throughout the program, and would like to thank them for their kind comments. Only when I may continue to be "Santa Claus" to Princeton children for many more years.

Let me wish all of you a very happy New Year!

Compulsory Education Bad.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

The mention of more tax-free land raises the important question of the disproportionate amount of taxes already required for public schools, its cause and the possible remedy.

One major reason for excessive school costs is a poorly devised compulsory education law which compels thousands to attend school for years after any ability to absorb knowledge has ceased.

Contrary to popular fancy, every child has not the ability to become a fine doctor, lawyer, merchant, or President. Natural endowments do not encourage the spread of intellect. More often than not, like seeks like and the low L.Q.'s internary. Mere enforced school attendance does not increase brain capacity.

Culture would be greatly simplified if we were all born with a highly intelligent mind. The fact that we are not is amply proved by the manner in which this generation, while enjoying the very finest facilities for mental development, have permitted their public servants to usurp their Bill of Rights without even knowing what it is they are surrendering. That is why taxes are now confiscatory.

Five years after graduation, more than 30% of all high school pupils will not have retained, nor will they ever again use, one-quarter of the subject matter of their high school courses. Yet we blandly continue spending millions trying to force unabsorbable knowledge into semi-barren skulls. Worst of all, the very men who should have guarded the priceless talent of learning have done the most to destroy it by fathering a system of mass production line education.

A few years ago, a high school diploma meant attainment. Today, it more often than not merely signifies attendance. For years the teaching profession has fostered the idea that everyone would become an educator. If we just furnished the facilities. They find now they must prove it by further deluding parent and pupil with a certificate that frequently means little more than four years of attendance.

In a mandated compulsory education act permitting earlier entrance into productive life would decrease juvenile delinquency. The elimination of a vast quantity of non-essentials and extra-curricular activities that require extra help and costly facilities yet have no true place in state supported schools, would save us enormous amounts in taxes and, at the same time, give our worthy children a better education.

A total of 4700 volunteer-hours were given to non-recording jobs during the first six months of operation of the Princeton unit of "Recording for the Blind."

The motivating force behind the organization has been Mrs. Ralph A. Rotnem, chairman and founder of the Princeton Unit. She gained her first experience in the field by reading to a blind historian at the Institute for Advanced Study, and organized the area group last fall.

Dr. John A. Mackay, President of the Seminary, made the office space available, while Princeton residents contributed enough to furnish and decorate the rooms. They also supplied the fun for the four sound-proof booths and the tape recording for the program.

The tape recordings made in Princeton are sent to the national headquarters of Recording for the Blind in New York which reproduces them on small vinylite disks. An average book requires about 50 of the six inch records.

An outgrowth of a program to record books for blinded veterans of World War II, the national organization provides books not available through the Talking Book Program of the Library of Congress or other sources. It requires specific books from units such as Princeton, which were the ninth to be formed.

BOROUGH BYES LAND

To Expand Play Area. The deed to the strip of land on Hamilton Avenue adjacent to Westminster Choir College was turned over to Mayor Male December 31 by E. Franklin Dunn, acting on behalf of the college's trustees. The Borough plans to develop its purchase as a play area, expanding the small corner lot on Chestnut Street.

The appointment of three new trustees to the Board of Education at the Council meeting on January 1, Gordon Waldron will hold the post of collector-treasurer, filling the unexpired term of Wilbur Kerr. Dr. Mark Lund replaces Dr. F. P. Ten as police surgeon.

Joining the staff of the engineering department is Robert H. Albrecht who has had 14 years' experience at municipal engineers in Hamilton, N.Y. His appointment is the result of a search by Mayor and Council to find a successor to Borough Engineer I. Russell Elker, who has made known his wish to retire.

ATKINS GETS FULLBRIGHT

Will Teach in Thailand. Dr. Samuel DeC. Atkins, Professor of Classics and Sanskrit at Princeton, has been awarded a Fulbright grant to teach English and do linguistic research in Thailand next year. Dr. Atkins, who is in Indo-European linguistics and Vedic Philology, will be in residence at a visiting research scholar at Chulalongkorn University in Bangkok.

A member of the Princeton faculty since 1937, Dr. Atkins teaches Sanskrit in the Department of Oriental Studies and a Hellenistic literature in the Department of Classics. He will leave for Thailand in June.

"The Campaigns of the Civil War", to be given by Norval F. Bacon, Jr., is for neophytes with only an elementary knowledge of the subject. Mr. Bacon will consider general strategy with emphasis on significant campaigns and battles.

Among other courses to be offered by the Group are Beginners' Bridge, Cours de Langue et de Civilization Françaises (for beginners and those who wish a review), Creative Writing, Theory and Practice of Photography and Greek Archaeology.

Enrollment blanks may be obtained by calling Twin Oaks 6-0618. They are also available at the Registrar's Office in the Administration Building on campus.

Mrs. Stanley Voorhees of Skillman will supervise the drive in Montgomery; Mrs. Elizabeth Carney of Middleburgh, in Franklin Township; and Mayor Grace Gurisic of Rocky Hill, in Rocky Hill.

TIGERS AT HOME

Busy Weekend on Tap. Starting at 8 o'clock this Thursday evening, Princeton athletic teams will take part in 11 events at home, with seven others scheduled at points ranging from Annapolis to West Point and Providence. It will be the busiest three-day period of the month, with activity tapering off the following week and then coming to a fortnight's halt for the annual term-end exam break.

The embattled hockey forces skate against a strong St. Lawrence sextet this Thursday at 4 in Baker Rink, still seeking their first intercollegiate victory. Saturday will see them travel to Providence to open their Ivy schedule against Brown.

Princeton's basketball team tackles two more Ivy foes this weekend, after having opened its league season with a 72-57 victory over Penn here Monday night. Yale will be in Dillon Gym Friday at 4 and Brown Saturday at the same hour.

Neither opponent is expected to give the Tigers much trouble, although the Orange and Black could do no better than split with each of them last season. The Elis lost Johnny Lee by graduation and Larry Downs until the end of January with a broken hand. Brown is without the departed Joe Tebo and Gerry Alaimo, who made the Bruins a high-scoring threat for the past three years.

In other sports here, the fencing team will meet Haverford at 7 Friday in Dillon Gym and the wrestlers will take on Columbia Saturday afternoon. The varsity match is set for 2:30, with the freshmen and jayvees taking to the mat at 1.

The fencers travel to Annapolis Saturday to meet Navy, while John Conroy's squash team heads for West Point and a match against perennially powerful Army. The swimming team, victor over N.Y.U. last month in its first meet, does not resume action until Tuesday, when Columbia will be here for a meet at 8:30.

TIGER CAPTAIN: Carl Belz will lead Princeton basketball team against Yale and Brown this weekend.

two teams ranged from infrequently good to completely horrendous, although it must be said in deference to the home forces that the Tigers were visibly the better of the two.

During the first 30 minutes of the game, Penn was colder than the 10-degree weather outside. The Quakers made only three points in the first seven minutes, didn't hit viable figures until 11 minutes were gone and at one time in the first half had connected on just four of their first 22 shots. That's an average of just 18 percent.

Princeton was somewhat more capable from the floor, moving out to leads of 13-5, 18-6 and 26-13. In the closing minutes, however, Penn connected for seven points while yielding two and left the floor at the intermission behind by only 26-20.

It was to the Tigers' credit that they lost little time putting the game away when action resumed. With every member of the starting team connecting in the first four minutes, they moved out to a 39-24 advantage. Herm Belz converted a layup, brother Carl followed with three points, Jim Brangan hit on his favorite one-handed push and Art Klein connected on a long set. When Joe Burns dropped a jump shot at 4:11, the home forces had a 15-point lead and were not in serious trouble again.

Princeton's margin gradually moved out to 19 points (57-38) but the Tigers' defensive play fell off and Penn narrowed the gap to 69-49 with three minutes to go. An all-court press backfired, however, largely on the good dribbling and passing of Art Klein. He controlled the ball well and fed Herm Belz and Brangan for quick breaks that sent the Princeton lead back to 37 points before Penn cut it by two just before the buzzer.

Brangan, spark plug of the Tiger quintet all season, caught fire in the second half, throwing in 19 points to give him 28 on the evening. He was good on seven of eight attempts from the floor during the final period.

With a 22.2 average in nine games, he currently ranks as one of the top scorers in the basketball-crazy country. Carl and Herm Belz were also both in double figures with 14 points apiece, although Carl was held to three during that molasses-like first half.

Tigers Third in Detroit. A 32-point performance by Jim Brangan helped Princeton run in front of Army all the way to take consolation honors last week in Detroit's Motor City Tournament. It was an 84-73 final, Michigan won the event by topping Detroit after the Wolverines had beaten the Orange and Black.

Brangan, credited with 41 points in two nights, and Carl Belz, who got 37 against Army, were named to the second team picked by sports writers covering the tournament. The Flyers had a 38-30 half-time lead against the cadets, strengthening their performance by sinking 18 of 21 from the foul line.

HOCKEY TEAM NOW 6-7
Beaten Three Times at Troy. Still seeking to come within three goals of an opponent, Princeton's hockey team was beaten three times in as many days in the Renaissance Rink Tournament last weekend at Troy, N.Y. R.P.I., took the Tigers' measure, 6-2;

VETERAN SKATER: John Hill is in his third year as a member of Princeton hockey team.

Michigan State, the eventual tourney victor, won by 7-4 (the lowest score the powerful Spartans were held to); and Brown won, 4 to 1. Princeton's best performance was against Michigan State, which wrecked Brown, 11 to 6, and R.P.I., 10 to 3. Johnny McBride (see "We Congratulate") scored three times for the hat trick, his third goal narrowing the mid-westerners' edge to 5-4 shortly after the final round opened.

Hopes had been that Brown, the first Ivy opponent Princeton has met this season, would be played on more even terms, but Mc-

While we do not like to gaze into crystal balls or take on the role of a soothsayer, the future growth of New Jersey is clearly reflected in the actual planning and construction of new electric generating facilities in the territory which we serve.

In the Delaware Valley, Public Service is constructing the $132,000,000 Mercer Generating Station in Hamilton Township. When completed in 1960, this station will produce 640,000 kilowatts of electricity. By 1962, the company's installed electric generating capacity will exceed four million kilowatts.

Additions and improvements to the company's gas properties are being made continually. We serve more than a million customers with gas, and at present, about one third of them are supplied with natural gas. By the end of 1959, nearly one half of our customers will be served with natural gas.

All of these facts reflect the growth of New Jersey . . . and Public Service is growing along with this great state. The years ahead hold great promise. We are planning ahead to fulfill that promise.

JOHN MCBRIDE
Princeton Hockey Player

Although Princeton's hockey team failed to win any of the three games it played last weekend in the Rensselaer Polytech Tournament at Troy, one of its members was named to the all-star sextet picked by sportswriters when the firing was over. He was John McBride, forward on the Tigers' first line who gave an outstanding performance to earn a berth on the team with several top players from well-regarded R.P.I. and powerful Michigan State.

McBride accounted for a total of six goals against the tough opposition, getting three against Michigan State—one of two hat tricks achieved in the six games played. He has been credited with one or more goals or assists in every game Princeton has played to date, a vital contribution to the Tigers' welfare since their defensive difficulties indicate they must beat the opposing goals frequently if they are to win.

"McBride is giving us something that it is difficult to teach hockey players," Coach Dick Vaughan reported after the R.P.I. Tournament. "He's making a second effort—going for the rebound if his first shot is blocked and often beating the goalie when the latter is out of position."

A 20-year-old graduate of Andover, McBride lives in Lake Forest, Ill. He captained the good freshman team of two years ago, ranking as its high scorer, and last season was second in scoring only to Harry Rulon-Miller, one of Princeton's finest hockey players.

As the team goes into the Ivy League season this week-end, McBride will skate with classmates Pete Cook and Tony Pell to form Princeton's primary scoring threat. The young Tigers (only three seniors on the squad) will be the underdogs in most of their games this season, but a consistent attack should help them achieve a few upsets along the line. If it develops, John McBride's ability to keep his eye on the cage will play a large part in the Tigers' success.

Bride's early goal was all the scoring the Tigers could manage as they were lagged with nine penalties. Coach Dick Vaughan felt that the effort against Michigan State had taken its toll, as had an attack of dysentery that hit a number of Tiger players.

The three lines Princeton uses have been steadily shuffled in preparation for the Ivy season, and are now set for the two games this weekend. McBride and Tony Pell will skate on the line that Pete Cook centers, while another trio will consist of sophomores Chris Gordon and Hugh Scott and junior John Hill.

Lance Odden, a Princeton resident, Larry Elliman and Dan Miller will operate as the third unit, while the defensive pairs are Captain Mo Cheston and George Morris, and Tom Campbell and Perry Hall. Sophomore Barry Van Gerbig, credited with the near fantastic total of 50 saves against Michigan State, will be in the goal.

BACK IN ACTION

Tough Foes for FHS, Hun. With the Christmas holidays only memories now, Princeton High and Hun School will resume basketball action in earnest this week-end against top-calibre opponents. The Little Tigers will meet Hamilton at 8 p.m. Friday in Hamilton, while the Johnny Huns will play Pennington Prep at 3:30 Friday afternoon in the Seminary gym.

FHS, with a 1-3 seasonal record (not counting this Wednesday's tussle with Peddie), will attempt to enhance an intercounty mark which now stands at 1-1. Next Tuesday, the Blue and White will host Bound Brook at 3:30. Hun, with a 1-2 seasonal record, will try to hit .500 before moving on to Crofton Hall and George School next Thursday and Saturday, respectively.

While seeking to better unimpressive percentages, both Princeton schools will watch the personal scoring achievements of two native sons, Tony Boccanfuso of FHS and Tommy Petrone of Hun. Boccanfuso took a 15.5 average into the Peddie engagement at mid-week. Petrone, the sophomore flash, will take a 19.7 average into the Pennington battle.

ST. PAUL'S FIVE LOSSES

On Last-Minute Basket. A wild pass that was converted into a field goal in the closing seconds cost St. Paul's basketball team a 47-46 defeat Saturday in its first game of the season. Our Lady of Sorrows of Trenton was trailing by a point when the Princeton quintet lost possession and the visitors made the basket that gave them the narrow victory.

A St. Paul's rally overtook the Trenton five in the second half, after the Princeton boys took a 20-10 lead in the first half, trailed, 20-20, at half-time. Danny Corvino was high for the losers with 26 points.

HOLIDAY BASKETBALL

YMCA Program Draws 200. Over 200 high school boys took part in the YMCA's Holiday Vacation Basketball program, according to Walter Sorg, newly appointed youth director. Under the program, the Princeton Country Day School and Princeton Seminary gyms were opened four afternoons for use by the teenagers, under YMCA supervision. Plans are under way for a high school basketball league, to begin about the middle of this month and run through March.

UNBEATEN PHK TEAM—40 SEASONS AGO: The Little Tigers of 1918-1919 vintage were probably the best ever to represent Princeton High in basketball, winning 20 while losing none and capturing 35 of 36 games over a two-winter span. Members of the tough-to-stop club were (left to right, seated) Roger O Kane of Princeton Junction, employment superintendent for De Laval Steam Turbine Company in Trenton; Jack Sprague of New York, an insurance salesman; Chester Lloyd of Hollywood, Fla., a race track employee at Tropical Park; Chris Whitman of Richmond, industrial development director for the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce; Alfred Seidenicker, former Princeton University player, deceased; and (left to right, standing) Edmond Tyson, deceased; Coach Albert Nies, who later coached Freshman basketball at Princeton University, deceased; and Wilbur Hageman, deceased. ### BOWLING NOTES

Another Short Week. Kegling activity at Princeton Recreation Center was held to a minimum this past week as a result of the holiday schedule, but full league slots will be conducted from here on out. Maier & Baldwin (52 wins) continued to dominate the Industrial loop, holding a decisive edge over runner-up Nussau Del (57), while the Annex Grill and National Guard (22 each) found themselves deadlocked for top "B" League and Nassau Service, the 6 Jills and Civili Electric (six each) showed a tie for the top spot as the second half of the Women's Industrial circuit got underway.

Individually, Maurice Gledhill registered a 212 in Industrial competition, followed by John Maier, 202-206, Henry Sulphin, 205, and Andy Drummond, 204. Among "B" bowlers, Jack Luckey topped a fine 617 series (215-218-181) with Ed Hoffman recording a 222, George Paris a 220, Pete Pranis a 210 and Dick Edwards and Bud Cavanaugh 200 apiece. Marilyn Lowe paced the distaff kegglers with 177-146, followed by Marilyn Silvester, 175; Sarah Huneycutt, 174-171; Lillian Burroughs, 171-165; Glida DeVido, 169; Helen Martinette and Myrtle Smith

How Times Change

When Manuel Urrutia, Cuba's provisional president, visited Princeton for a weekend in October, not much was made over him. Now, members of Princeton's press corps with they had another crack at interviewing the important leader.

While here, President Urrutia was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roland T. Ely of Constitution Hill, who took him to the Princeton-Columbia football game and arranged a talk for him before a group of Lawrenceville School students. At a Nassau Club breakfast, the visiting dignitary predicted many of the developments which Rebel leader Fidel Castro has wrought in recent days.

Mr. Ely, an expert on the history of Cuba, has arranged several lectures at Princeton University in the past year by colleagues of the new president. He has kept away from Cuba for quite a spell, largely because he serves a spot on the "unwanted visitors" list during Batista's regime, but he now intends to spend his spring vacation in Havana.

bachelor of science in engineering and master of science in engineering. Donald Febowen Wet also of New York City, received an $800 RCA Scholarship for his undergraduate work in electrical engineering.

FAMILY DOCTORS TO MEET In Atlantic City, The New Jersey Academy of General Practice is sponsoring a family doctors meeting Saturday in Atlantic City, in connection with "Family Doctor Week" (January 4-10) which was proclaimed by Governor Meyner to honor the general practitioner.

Scheduled to attend are Dr. J. Leonard Berry, Dr. P. C. Tan and Dr. Benjamin B. Scassera of Princeton; Dr. Milton Marion of Pennington and Dr. T. E. Cortelyou of Hopewell. To maintain membership in the Academy, doctors must take 150 hours of postgraduate credit every three years.

RCA HONORS SCIENTISTS New Position Created. Eleven RCA scientists have been honored for outstanding technical achievement, according to Dr. Irving Wolff, vice-president, research, of RCA Laboratories. Eight of the men have been named to the new position of Fellow, Technical Staff, which was created to give administrative-level standing to scientists who wish to continue with personal research.

Fellowships were awarded to Alden V. Bedford, 177 Jefferson Road; Herbert Belar, 120 West Spring Garden Street, Palmyra; Clarence W. Hansell, 160 Longview Drive; Roy D. Kell, 487 Jefferson Road; Nils E. Lindblad, 37 Laurel Road; Dwight O. North, 80 Random Road; Edward C. Ramberg, 800 Woods Road, Southampton, Pa.; and Albert Rose, 292 Stockton Street.

Three men were promoted to Associate Laboratory Directors. They are Harwick Johnson, 44 Roper Road; Leon S. Nergaard, 11 Rollingmead; and Jan A. Rajchman, 298 Edgerstone Road.

Dr. Wolff explained that new Fellows will be appointed periodically and that their selection will be based on the same scholarly and research achievement criteria as the Associate Laboratory Directors. "The difference will be one of personal volition," he said, "the Fellow desiring to make continued personal technical contributions and the Associate Laboratory Director a Laboratory Director electing to contribute through leadership in group administration."

SCOUTS SET RALLY For Stony Brook District, Princeton Boy Scouts will participate in the annual Stony Brook District rally Friday, January 23, from 7:30 to 9:30. THE CHARM OF THE OLD for $79,500

Made to order (well over a hundred years ago) for old house lovers who like to "fix them up" is this potentially adorable brick house in the Borough. On the first floor are two living rooms; the second has three bedrooms and a bath; the basement houses kitchen and dining room. If you like this intriguing old-fashioned layout, you can accentuate its charm with a bit of fixing up. But if your tastes in the practical are a bit more modern, you could add a kitchen-dining room wing on ground level and use the basement for playroom, laundry and powder room. In any case, the basic appeal is there, and you can do as much or as little as you want. The lot is lovely—large, with fine trees, mostly fenced and backed by a pleasant playground.
